

Security Culture Index

The Security Culture Index is used to interpret the results of the survey. It explains how strong your security culture is and provides a measure of your security maturity level. All scores range from 0 to 100, where 0 is extremely poor and 100 is excellent. Use the scoring brackets to correctly interpret the strength of your security culture in your organization.

90-100	Excellent
80-89	Good
60-79	Moderate
50-59	Poor to moderate
30-49	Poor
0-29	Extremely poor

Security Culture and Risks to Organizational Security

In every organization, there is an element of organizational risk to security. That risk is lower in organizations that have a good or excellent security culture score (scores above 80). In organizations with scores between 60 and 80, the level of risk is still moderately high. The level of risk to organizational security is critical when a group has a security culture score below 60.

In the results section of your Security Culture Survey campaign under Security Culture Dimensions Explained, we share tips on how to improve the different dimensions of security culture. Building security culture is one of the most important aspects of an organization's security program. Use these tips as a guideline to build a strong security culture and improve your organization's security.
